

6th International Knowledge Engineering and Semantic Web Conference (KESW 2015)

Moscow, 30.09.2015–02.10.2015
<http://2015.kesw.ru>

KESW is a growing international conference dedicated to discussing research results and directions in the areas related to Linked Data, knowledge representation and reasoning, and semantic technologies. The topics include:

- | | | |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------|
| ★ Ontologies | ★ Linked Data | ★ NLP |
| ★ Knowledge representation | ★ Big Data | ★ Schema.org |
| ★ Data visualization | ★ OWL/RDF/SPARQL | ★ Open Data |

What makes KESW interesting:

- ★ Leading academic and industrial experts as keynote speakers.
- ★ Peer reviewed proceedings published in the Springer CCIS series.
- ★ Strong international program committee and constructive reviews.
- ★ Moderate registration fees and student support.

Currently confirmed keynote speakers:

- ★ Markus Stocker, University of Eastern Finland
- ★ Yuliya Tikhokhod, Yandex

KESW 2015 will feature a special track on Open Data, Science, and Education organized by Irina Radchenko (ITMO University, St. Petersburg). We solicit papers discussing both publishing and consuming open data, the principles of open science, use of semantic technologies in education, and data journalism among others.

English is the only official language of KESW. All technical sessions are held entirely in English.

Important dates:

- ★ Abstract deadline: May 11, 2015.
- ★ Full paper submission deadline: May 17, 2015.
- ★ Author notification: June 28, 2015.
- ★ Camera-ready deadline: July 14, 2015.

Organizers:

- ★ Dmitry Mouromtsev, (ITMO, Russia), General chair.
- ★ Pavel Klinov (Complexible, USA), Program chair.
- ★ Irina Radchenko (ITMO, Russia), Open Data chair.
- ★ Maxim Kolchin (ITMO, Russia), PR chair.

2015.kesw.ru

More detailed information, including submission instructions, can be found at the conference's Web page. Feel free to direct any questions to info@kesw.ru or pavel@complexible.com.